“

It is necessary to strengthen the defense of power facilities, to restore the infrastructure destroyed by Russian strikes over the past six months, to provide people with more opportunities under the project of energy system decentralization, to enable people to generate and supply electricity on their private territory, on their own private facilities.

President of Ukraine Volodymyr Zelensky

Ukraine's post-war reconstruction unlocks great opportunities for business. Our country has great potential to become an energy hub for Europe and help accelerate the green transition of the entire continent.
